

MORE MONEY FOR WATER MAINS

Necessary improvements in the system to cost in neighborhood of $600,000.

FIRST STEP IN MORAN BONUS.

Contractor Opens Ball With Formal Claim—Paving Plans Reported Favorably—Doings of Council.

The necessary improvements in the waterworks system of the city in order to be able to handle the increased water supply and furnish an abundance of water to all parts of the city, will cost approximately $600,000, according to an estimate submitted to the city council last night by City Engineer Kelsey. With the Big Cottonwood conduit completed and an additional supply of water secured from that source, it is now necessary to increase the size of the watermain lines in some parts of the city so as to get a proper distribution of the water. The special bond issue voted for the improvement of the water and sewer systems of the city set apart $100,000 for the purpose of enlarging the mains, but this sum is considered entirely inadequate and the city council will have to find some way of securing other funds for the improvement contemplated.

ENGINEER'S ESTIMATES.
City Engineer Kelsey's letter setting forth the requirements in this respect was read to the council, and was then referred to the city engineer and superintendent of waterworks associated. These committees will hold a special meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Mayor Thompson's office to consider the matter. Following is the engineer's communication in full:

I herewith submit map showing proposed new water supply mains and recommend that bids be immediately asked for on the following streets:
8-inch—Fifth South street, from Parley's canyon conduit to Tenth East street.
10-inch—From Fifth South street, from Tenth East street to Main street.
12-inch—From Fifth South street, from Main street to West Temple street.
14-inch—From Fifth South street, from West Temple street to First West street.
16-inch—From Fifth South street, from First West street to Third West street.
The estimated cost of these mains is as follows: 1. Continuation of water main from Parley's canyon conduit to State street, and balance cast iron pipe, $129,473.32; if all cast iron pipe is used, $243,435.32.

I further recommend that bids be asked for on both cast iron and continuous wooden stave pipe. The following improvements will be required in the near future:
Constructing additional water supply mains, as shown on the attached map.
Replacing the present three and four-inch mains (32.2 miles) with six-inch mains, at an estimated cost of $262,238.
Distributing mains, $1,000.
These estimates do not include any mains less than 10 inches, nor any contemplated improvements to the City creek system, or below Tenth South street.

MORAN'S FORMAL CLAIM.
The formal claim of Contractor P. J. Moran for a bonus of $9,150 for completing the Big Cottonwood conduit $1 days ahead of contract time was received by the council and was promptly ordered filed away upon motion of Ferris. This places the matter in a condition for suit to be filed by Moran so that the court may determine whether or not he is entitled to a bonus in any sum.

PAVING MAIN STREET.
The streets committee reported favorably upon the petition of David Keith and others for paving Main street from South Temple to North Temple with asphalt and Second North, East Capitol and Girard streets with oil macadam. The report was adopted by the council and the record was instructed to advertise notice of intention to make the improvements.

Black's resolution providing for the issuance of warrants by the city auditor for all monies paid out by the treasurer, including the wages of department employees, was adopted by the council. Heretofore the auditor has drawn a warrant in blanket form for the entire amount of the payroll of each department and the treasurer has paid cash as the employees presented themselves at his office. Under the resolution the auditor will draw a warrant for every person on the payroll.

Martin's resolution authorizing the payment of $500 in sidewalk tax assessed against city school property, was adopted.

A communication was received from the Manufacturers & Merchants' association asking the council to recommend to the board of public works that home products be used in sewers laid in the city. The engineering and sewerage committee will consider the matter.

FIREMEN WANT A RAISE.
Byron R. Crosby and the other members of the fire department petitioned the council for an increase of $10 per month on each of their salaries. The petition was referred to the fire and finance committee.

Henry Cohn submitted a claim for damages to his property on East Second South street caused by excavations for paving the street. The matter was referred to the claims committee and the city attorney.

LIBERTY PARK PRIVILEGES.
A proposition was received from James Perry to lease the refreshment ment privileges at Liberty Park for a term of five years. He agrees to furnish a band of 20 pieces on Sundays and holidays and pay the city $250 for the first year and $350 per year for the remainder of the life of the lease. The public grounds committee will consider the matter.

A petition was received from C. M. Alston and others asking that the petition of Earl Dunshoe in regard to the annexation of 60 acres of land in the southeastern part of the city be granted. This matter was referred to the municipal laws committee.

City Engineer Kelsey notified the council of the selection of A. F. Doremus and O. P. Miller as members of the Utah lake water commission for the year 1906. The council concurred in their selection.

AMUSEMENTS.
Theater—James O'Neill and his company in their farewell presentation of "Monte Cristo," open their engagement at the theater this evening.

Orpheum—Most vaudeville acts like most funny stories, are not built for too frequent repetition, for which reason it is safe to say that the older Orpheum patrons will find less to amuse in this week's bill than those who are less devoted to the vaudeville habit.

The bill is not bad, except that it is rather commonplace after the heights of excellence attained last week. Its feature is perhaps the performance of "Cora," a trained fox terrier, belonging to Charles De Camo, who opened the bill with an act that won everybody's heart last night. After that there was little to offend by actual badness or to please by special merit. Anna Chandler sings some songs imitations, in which she is good, but loses much of the point on account of the fact that the originals whom she was imitating are strangers to the audience. Sutherland and Curtis in "The Belle of Jayville" present a rather ragged act, consisting of a bit of dialogue, a recitation, and a song and dance by the lady member. Neither of the principals is possessed of extraordinary merit. The three troubadours sing a few songs, all plucked from the same music tree. Mlle. Esmeralda, xylophone artist, is excellent on the instrument, and wins a goodly portion of applause.

Miss Lillian Chick, who loops the loop, gets her start from a "home trainer," which is three wooden poles turning under her bicycle. At a high rate of speed the wheels are suddenly stopped, she shoots around the loop, and then, to show how easy it is to speed up like that, she shoots around again. Of course the fact that the home trainer couldn't possibly give her speed enough to shoot half way around the first time does not in any way mar the act, for it is beautiful to look upon, and Miss Chick is about the daintiest bit of femininity to skip across the Orpheum stage this season. The kindred goes back for its inspiration to the familiar pursuit of a racing party by a constantly augmenting crowd.

Grand—"Red River," which is the bill for the first half of the week at the Grand, is a melodramatic play of southern life. In the hands of Mr. Lorch and company it affords a pleasant evening's entertainment. The thread of the story is that Louis D'Ale, a Louisiana planter, is loved by his foster-sister, who is a Creole. His young wife, a northern girl, has the jealousy of a rejected lover, also a Creole. He is her husband's foreman, which position gives him a good chance to sow distrust in the mind of his master, while he is helped in his perfidy by the jealous Creole woman. Husband and wife are all but totally estranged, when the true status of affairs is revealed and the intriguers both meet death. Miss Mareky shares the honors of the evening with Mr. Lorch, while Miss Anna Marvin has done nothing quite so well here as the rendition of her part last night. Wednesday evening closes the engagements of Mr. Lorch in these parts for some time to come. At the matinee tomorrow a 100-piece dinner set will be given to the holder of a lucky number.

Lyric—"Brother for Brother" is now running smoothly at the Lyric. The opening performance was not all that could be desired, as some of the players were not up to their parts. But a couple of rehearsals and an additional performance set everything in proper order and the promoter was relieved of his task.

The play is a melodrama which affords opportunity for spirited action, and there are many situations calculated to thrill and amuse. Last Above is cut of one of the departments in the store of D. W. Horsley, at No. 602 West North Temple St. Mr. Horsley started business in 1900 in a store just 15 by 15. He now occupies his own building, 60 by 75, with three departments. A Utah boy, he has been noted as a hard worker and one of Salt Lake's most progressive merchants. Being at the terminus of the new viaduct, his store promises this year to fairly double last year's business.

Mr. Horsley states that much of his success is due to the National Cash Register, which introduced a perfect system in his store. He now uses the wonderful ELECTRIC NO. 106 NATIONAL CASH REGISTER. This is the first grocery and meat market in Utah or Idaho to use the electrical register. This register system makes better clerks, increases profit, makes each clerk responsible for his own mistakes, shows the proprietor the exact condition of business at any time, and also prevents the failure to charge goods sold on credit. By adopting the 100 principle National Cash Register system, Mr. Horsley has shown himself to be thoroughly up to date.

Further information regarding this wonderful cash register system can be obtained by addressing

PASSED A BILL.
The House Managed to Get First Practical Action on Matter of Legislation.

Outside of the fact that the house passed its first bill, the main feature of yesterday's session was the debate on the resolution proposed by Robinson, that the speaker appoint a special committee of three from the house to investigate the existing coal famine.

The resolution was objected to by Thompson, who could see no good to result from such an inquiry. Mr. Tolton moved that it be referred to the M. & M. association, and was ruled out of order. Another amendment was offered, referring the resolution to the committee on railroads and common carriers. This was lost and the original motion, by a large majority, passed the house. Speaker Joseph appointed as such special committee Messrs. Robinson, Hone and Tolton.

The first and only bill to be passed by the house so far, was H. B. 1, by Jensen, (Nephew U. S. C.) and provides that taxes on real property shall become a lien on the property on the second Monday in January of each year, to conform with the law that makes taxes on personal property a lien on the same date. After Mr. Jensen, the author of the bill, had made an explanation of its provisions, and Mr. Thompson had objected, the bill went through with a whoop, the vote standing 40 ayes, no nays, and 5 absent and not voting.

Governor Cutler submitted a message to the house, urging that some action be taken in the matter of the law relating to usage in district courts, where the regular judge is disqualified from sitting on a case, the incoming judge brings with him his own stenographer. This practice necessitates the payment of mileage to the stenographer, and is an unnecessary expense. In the opinion of the governor, as the work could just as well be done by the regular court stenographer. The message was referred to the committee on judiciary.

The committee on judiciary reported that it had under consideration H. B. 6, by Pedersen, relating to rate of legal interest, and asked that the same be referred to the committee on banking and insurance. Report adopted.

The same committee reported favorably on H. B. 15, by Kuchler, relating to judgment and penalty in contempt of court, and asked that the same be referred to the committee on banking and insurance. Report adopted.

Kuchler asked that H. B. 10, by himself, be referred to the committee on judiciary. This is the "anti-Skeen" measure, similar to the one passed by the senate, which will probably be substituted for the house measure.

Thompson moved that one day elapse between the favorable report of a bill by any committee and the action on the same by the house. This is designed to give all a fair show to investigate such measures before voting on the bills, and for the benefit of any members who may be unavoidably absent when the measures are presented.

H. B. 56 was introduced by Sutton. This measure defines the duties of the state board of equalization and provides for the collection of taxes from car companies. On motion the house adjourned.

BAD MAN ARRESTED.
Alleged Counterfeiter and Escaped Convict Picked up by Officers.

Last evening Sergeant Hempel arrested an alleged counterfeiter named James A. or Charles Brown, said to be wanted in Washington, Montana and Idaho. Last year he was in jail at Seattle awaiting trial on the charge of counterfeiting, but with 12 others made his escape during a daring jail-break. He was the only man not captured soon after. A crook named Black led the break for liberty but was shot by the officers after a long and sensational chase. Brown managed to secure employment in the Yellowstone park from the government but after leaving there he visited points in Montana and Idaho. He then came here and claims that he has been in the city for three weeks. The officers do not believe the statement.

Brown will be held until word is received from Seattle and from government officials.

FISHER HARRIS HOME.
President of the Dry Farming Congress Returns From Denver.

Fisher Harris returned yesterday afternoon, from Denver, where he has been in attendance on the Dry Farming congress. Mr. Harris says that the sessions of the congress should be interesting to every American in general, and every western man in particular. In Utah, irrigation has reclaimed 4 per cent of the land for cultivation, but this area will be increased to 11 per cent. This is but a small part of the state. But when dry farming becomes more extended and recognized a very large section will be reclaimed. There were in attendance on the congress the presidents of 16 agricultural colleges, and every western man in particular, representatives of the department of agriculture and many other scientific men.

Mr. Harris believes there will be over 1,000 delegates to the next convention to be held in this city, where the general headquarters are to be located, with assistant secretaries in different parts of the west. Mr. Harris is enthusiastic over the prospect.
